

Friends,

Recently, I had a far-reaching conversation with a friend. The topics ranged from the war in Gaza, hostages, the Israeli political scene, and the American political scene. We covered all the current third-rail issues. Because we are friends and respect each other, we can express our opinions openly and offer each other our perspectives. Toward the end of the conversation, we both pledged to think about what the other had said. Not every passionate discussion ends this way. Often, we are too invested in being 'right' to listen or risk even having conversations.

I was tempted to walk away from the opportunity to have this discussion with my friend. It seemed too risky. Two things drew me into the conversation. First is that I care about and respect my friend. I simply couldn't walk away when he said something that conflicted with my views. I had an obligation to hear him out and be in conversation. Second, the challenges we are faced with today are just too important. The war in Gaza and the political situation in Israel is truly existential. The decisions made by our leaders will have lasting and possibly grave effects on the future of the State of Israel and Jewish life in the diaspora. The political situation in this country is also fraught with existential challenges. Our elected and appointed leaders' decisions will impact our communities and determine what American democracy will become. But how do we resist the temptation to take the easy path and walk away? It is much easier to sit in our echo chambers.

Jewish tradition informs us that it is neces- sary to argue when faced with decisions or challenging circumstances. Our most sacred rabbinic texts record hundreds of years of collected arguments guiding present-day Jewish thought, religious practice, and communal life. Even in Reform Judaism, we lean heavily on our rabbinic ancestor's tradition of argumentation to guide our decision-making. However, it is essential to remember that this kind of argumentation is not 'passionate discussion'. Rather, it is discourse that requires one to bring facts and evidence, listen and seek clarification, dig deeply into our texts and traditions, and respond to others' facts and evidence. Accepting that not all arguments will end in a clear-cut decision is also important. The critical part of the argument is the argument, not the decision. When we look at arguments in the Talmud, we see both sides recorded because we understand that, over time, circumstances change. The sides of arguments that seem valid today may not be valid in the future. Nothing is as rigid as it might seem.

It is hard to believe that our rabbinic ancestors were not passionate or emotional in their argumentation. That is just human nature. But the message they sent through the texts they left for us is to curb our passions and emotions for the sake of the essential arguments we need to have and for the sake of the relationships that are important to us. If we value our Judaism and Israel, we need to respect each other enough to be in conversation and argue. If we value our American democracy, we need to respect each other enough to be in conversation and argue. Our rabbinic ancestors taught us that argumentative discourse is how we come to decisions that respect the community's needs. So let's argue - respectfully and thoughtfully.

I'm not sure I convinced my friend of anything, but we understand each other better and are still friends. May it be that this leads us to even more conversation and arguments. May we seek the truths in each other's arguments, and may this lead us to make better decisions for the sake of the community.

L'shalom,

Rabbi Marc

President's Message - Armi Rowe

Our Temple's Annual Meeting was indeed long and drawn out - I was a guilty party as my remarks should have been much more succinct - but the good news is that we are moving in the right direction, we shared productive discussions, and we are becoming more aligned as a congregation. Our Board will continue to keep everyone in the loop of our leadership's progress against new goals we set for ourselves in the coming year.

Now, we will all get to enjoy a little breather and time to recharge as the summer vacation season approaches. Yesterday, I enjoyed eating dinner on my deck and afterward, I watched the sky transform from pastel blue with white poofs into a cobalt blue with sunset streaks. The mourning dove coos, and other avian chatter eventually faded as the frogs began their loud and piercing calls as shadows of bats began fluttering about.

Beginning July 5 and throughout the summer until August 23, Rabbi Marc will take a break from leading Shabbat services so that our volunteer lay leaders will have the opportunity to create a Shabbat experience for us that reflects their inspiration. You may still reach Rabbi Marc should you need to meet or speak with him for any urgent matters. Summer Shabbat services may or may not include a Zoom option as A/V assistance may be more of a challenge during summer vacation. There definitely will not be Zoom when the service is led by Hazzan Sherry and held outdoors at Harkness Memorial State Park on July 19 and August 9.

As the Baking Club and Shabbat Dinner Committee both take a break this summer, we will rely on our Shabbat Service lay leaders to plan a modest oneg for attendees. As these and other committees take a break this summer,

Congregation Highlights

Because of the Jewish holiday Shavuot, the June Board of Trustees meeting took place after the submission of this message to the Bulletin. So this month, these were the Congregation Highlights:

At the Annual Meeting, the Congregation approved:

- the proposed 2024-2025 annual budget.
- the proposed 2024-2025 slate of nominated candidates
- the renewal of Hazzan Sherry Barne's contract for July 2023-June 2025
- the renewal of Rabbi Marc Ekstrand's contract for July 2024-June 2027 put on your thinking caps for more activities, events, and circles we might jumpstart this Fall.

President's Message - Armi Rowe—continued from page 2

Until then, may you all enjoy safe travels and relaxing activities as well as embark on new adventures this summer!

See you at Summer Services and maybe at the town parks and beaches!

Notes from Sherry Barnes

Summer....so beautiful with its bright blue sky and wisps of white clouds. A pleasant breeze on a warm day ending with a spectacularly colored sunset, and an inky black night sky filled with twinkling stars. As much as I say autumn is my favorite season, there is something that makes you feel alive in the summer. Maybe it's the brightness of the sun or the length of a day. I'm looking forward to enjoying the outdoors.

Summer reminds me of going out on my dad's boat and feeling free...just you and the sea. The outboard motor on the boat made it too loud to have a conversation, so you could just sit and enjoy the beauty of the sun dancing on the water, making it look like diamonds sparkling on the surface and admire the sailboats gliding by with ease, as we moved away from land and headed out on Long Island Sound.

Every year I still have this yearning to get out on the Sound at least once. You can't go out on the Sound without thanking G*d for all the beauty surrounding you. It's always breathtaking. If I can't get out on the Sound, Avery Point, and Harkness Park are a close second. I love leading outdoor Shabbat Services in the summer at Harkness Park. What better place to celebrate Shabbat than surrounded by the beauty that G*d created. We are so blessed to live in this area.

Well, as I said, summer is here and so are Lay

Led Summer Shabbat Services! Our Lay-leaders carefully choose what to put into the framework of the service liturgy, in order to create a meaningful Shabbat experience for you. They choose readings, Shabbat poetry, music, how the d'var Torah will reflect the Torah portion, and who will help with the honors. I hope that you will come and join us for Shabbat Services over the summer.

Here is the lineup of Summer Service Lay-Leaders this year.

Just a reminder that all Summer Shabbat Services begin at 7:00 p.m.

Sisterhood -- Barbara Senges, President

Hi Ladies,

It is hard to believe that another year of Sisterhood is behind us. The Sisterhood Board and I are extremely proud of all we have accomplished this year. The year 2023-2024 saw the continuation of our old favorites - Fall Kick-Off Event, Book Club, Walking Group, Smith's Acres Event, Trivia Night, Safe Futures Walk, Friendly Visitors Program Holiday Bags, Judaica Shop Chanukah Fair, two Mah Jongg tournaments, Sisterhood Shabbat Service, a Social Justice sponsored Book Banning Forum, Gardening at Safe Futures, a Trip to Goodspeed and the Gelston House, Movie Club and the End-of-Year Dinner Event.

This year also saw Sisterhood expanding with some exciting new programs.

Sisterhood, led by Social Justice Chair, Moira Ross, worked with the Jewish Federation to purchase bags and menstrual hygiene products as part of "The Dignity Grows Project", and donated $1,000 to JFEC to fund this effort. After we assembled them, the bags were donated to Safe Futures in memory of long-time Sisterhood member Donna Goldman. In October, a group of Sisterhood members attended a performance of "Steel Magnolias" at the Niantic Bay Playhouse. In March, we learned Decoupage and made vases which we later filled with flowers and donated through the Friendly Visitors Program for Passover. In June, we spent a wonderful morning in Old Lyme at The Audubon Society, had lunch outdoors at Cafe Flo and in the afternoon, enjoyed a tour of the Florence Griswold House and Museum.

The Sisterhood Board welcomes your suggestions/ideas for new projects and events for the upcoming year. Please let us know what you are thinking?

So what will be new in 2024-2025????

Jennifer Zettler will be switching Board positions and will be our new Sisterhood Treasurer. Nancy Trostler and Linda Barnett will be joining the Sisterhood Board as our new Membership Chairs. Sue Rosen will also be joining the Board to assist Sue Fornara and me with Publicity and Communication.

In the coming year, Sherry Barnes will be the leader of our new monthly Rosh Chodesh Group. Years ago, Sisterhood had a Rosh Chodesh Group and recently it has come up as something we would like to try again. Sherry is exploring what a Rosh Chodesh group could look like in 2024-2025. Eight of you already indicated your interest on a sign-up sheet at the End of Year Dinner. Stay tuned for more info!

Moira is also planning a Get Out the Vote event for this Summer/Fall. Watch for an email.

The Drop-In Mah Jongg Circle, coordinated by Robbin Alpert will be taking a break during the summer, but will restart Wednesday, September 18.

No Mahjongg tournament is scheduled for this fall.

Sisterhood will be holding our yearly Planning Session on Tuesday, August 27.

Have a great summer and we look forward to seeing you at the Kick-Off Event on Thursday, September 26 at 6:00PM. Save the date on your calendar!

Barbara

Temple Emanu-El Religious School (TERS) - Lisa Marcus, Administrator

Long days by the pool and at the beach. Warm nights by the fire pit listening to music from Ocean Beach. Soaking up every moment with my college graduate. Stealing time with my teenage son and hubby, too. This is how I plan to spend my summer...when I am not cleaning classrooms and working on next fall's curriculum with our fabulous staff. Summer is a time to relax and rejuvenate. However, rejuvenation takes many forms.

For me, much of the summer will be spent with high school volunteers reorganizing our school spaces and planning meaningful new programming for our fall and winter school months. I am already looking forward to our Fall Open House and school hasn't even been out for a month yet. Ah, ...I miss my students. I miss my teachers. I miss my faculty assistants. I miss my families. And I miss Amy.

The weeks are not the same without Amy working by my side. The office is quiet. Thankfully, I have Roberta, Hazzan Sherry and Rabbi Marc to work with me and guide me along my escapades as I lead this spiritual journey for students and staff into the next school year. I have many things in my bag of tricks this coming year.

My hope is to focus on adventure through connections. Together we will make wonderful discoveries about ourselves, each other, the past, and maybe even the future. I hope to bump into many of you around town or at temple, but if I do not...relax and enjoy meaningful experiences this summer. You and your family deserve all the goodness you can soak up! Soon enough we'll be back together making great connections and sharing all our summer adventures.

In the meantime, you should have received your 2024-2025 Temple Membership packet and religious school forms. Please try to return them by July 15, 2024, especially if you would like to be on a monthly or quarterly payment plan. If you have not received your renewal forms, please contact Roberta.

Shalom,

Miss Lisa

Membership Renewal and Religious School Packets have been mailed. If you have not received yours, please contact the office, 860-443-3005 or office@tewaterford.org.

As the Temple Fiscal Year started July 1, 2024, we ask that you please try to return the packets as soon as possible.

Thank you.

Gift Cards — Please Donate

The Temple office continues to receive calls from people in need of help. Donations of Gift Cards to ShopRite, Stop and Shop, and Walmart are appreciated.

Please drop them off in the box on the office door, whenever you have the opportunity.

Thank you.
