Rabbi's Message - Marc Ekstrand

Inside and Out

This month, we observe the festival of Passover. At our seder tables, we retell the story of our redemption from Pharaoh. During that retelling, we are asked to place ourselves inside the story — to feel as if we were there, in servitude, then redeemed, present at Sinai, and now on a journey to a promised land. It was on that journey that the Israelites built a portable sanctuary, the Mishkan. At its center was the Kodesh HaKodashim, the Holy of Holies. And inside the Holy of Holies was the Ark.

Bezalel made the Ark of acacia wood — a rare and precious commodity in the desert. He then covered the wood, inside and out, with pure gold, and made an Ark cover of pure gold. We are also told of a further adornment: — זָרָהּב סָבִיב and make around it a gold molding. Inside the Ark would rest the tablets of the covenant — both the broken first tablets and the unbroken second set.

Our sages take note of the detail that the Ark was overlaid inside and out with pure gold, and they wonder why. It is a reasonable question. The Israelites are given no instruction that the Ark is ever to be opened. The Ark, with the covenant inside and the hammered gold cherubim above, is the throne of God. It is from that place — hovering over the Ark, between the almost-touching wings of the cherubim — that God speaks to Moses. If the Ark is never to be opened, if its inside is never to be seen, why cover the inside with gold at all?

The rabbis answer by comparing the Ark to a person. Rava taught: Any Torah scholar whose inside is not like their outside is not truly a Torah scholar. But this teaching extends well beyond scholars. When the Israelites ask for a king — forgetting that they already have one, namely God — they are told that the king must write two Torah scrolls, read them, know them, and live by them. The king is meant to be the greatest scholar of the law, the Rosh Yeshivah of the nation. But the king has something no ordinary scholar possesses: authority, an army, and the ultimate power to decide who is jailed and who is free, who goes to war and who lives in peace.

As the Ark is covered in pure gold inside and out, so too must the king's inner life and outer actions be of one seamless, unquestionable integrity. With the power to send people to war, to put the lives of soldiers and civilians on the line, the king must be of pure integrity — wholly dedicated to the moral and ethical demands of Torah. No wavering. No pretense.

Without that integrity, the power of the king ceases to be a source of blessing and becomes a force of chaos and destruction.

This brings us back to that gold molding on the Ark — זָרָהּב, zeir zahav. The rabbis notice that this word, זָרָהּב, zeir, 'molding', is very close to another word we encounter later in Torah: זָרָהּב, ish zarah, the 'strange fire' that consumes Aaron's sons Nadav and Avihu when they misuse the power of the Mishkan. The difference between adornment and annihilation is as fine as the change of a single vowel, זֵיר becoming זָר—and what crowns the Ark becomes what kills.

If the mere breath of pronunciation can mean life or death, how much more so the power of whole words — words used carelessly, words used to disparage, words used to incite. Words can transform the covenant's power into destruction for entire peoples. The king must be like gold inside and out. Appearance matters. Words matter. When a leader plays games with power, those around them will surely suffer. Integrity is not an adornment that makes some leaders look more impressive than others. Integrity is the difference between a leader who brings people to flourishing and one who leads them to ruin.

The Mishkan of the Exodus became the model for the First Temple, for the Second Temple, and for synagogues like ours. Above our own Ark is inscribed a teaching from the Babylonian Talmud: — אָתָּה עוֹמֵד מִי לִפְנֵי Know before Whom you stand. Every leader — every person — must ask that question. Not just when we are in the sanctuary, but in every moment when our power is exercised and words are spoken.

At Passover, we place ourselves inside the whole arc of our journey — from bondage to redemption, from Sinai to here. We are still on our journey to a promised land. We carry the covenant not in a portable Ark, but within ourselves. The charge has not changed: inside and out, in our private intentions and our public actions, we must reflect Torah's gold.

Chag Sameach,

Rabbi Marc

From the President's Desk — John Murphy

As we move into April, the signs of spring are all around us. The days are getting longer, the weather is beginning to warm, and our clocks have officially “sprung forward.” With the extra daylight comes a renewed sense of energy and activity throughout our Temple community.

One of the highlights of early spring for many of our families is Passover. By the time you read this, many of us will have gathered with family and friends around the Seder table to retell the story of the Exodus and reflect on the timeless themes of freedom, resilience, and hope. These traditions remind us of the importance of community and the strength we draw from being together.

April is also shaping up to be a meaningful and active month at Temple Emanu-El. On Sunday, April 5, we will be hosting an important community program, Stop the Bleed, from 10:30 AM to 12:00 PM. This free workshop, presented through the American College of Surgeons initiative, teaches simple but lifesaving techniques that anyone can use to help in an emergency before professional responders arrive. I encourage everyone to consider attending and to register with the Temple office by April 1. Programs like this reflect our commitment to safety, preparedness, and caring for one another.

Looking ahead, we are excited to celebrate a very special milestone for our congregation. On May 2, we will honor Hazzan Sherry Barnes' 25th Anniversary of service to Temple Emanu-El. For twenty-five years, Hazzan Sherry has enriched our community with her beautiful voice, spiritual leadership, warmth, and dedication to our congregation. The anniversary celebration will be a wonderful opportunity for all of us to come together to express our gratitude and appreciation. I encourage everyone to support the event and participate in the tribute opportunities that will help make the evening truly special.

Planning is also underway for the Second Annual Terri Goldsmith Memorial Golf Tournament, which will be held on Monday, June 15. This event continues to grow as a meaningful community gathering while raising funds for both Temple Emanu-El and the Yale New Haven Smilow Cancer Center, honoring Terri's memory in a powerful and lasting way. We look forward to sharing more details soon about sponsorships, golfers, and ways to get involved.

Behind the scenes, the Temple Board of Trustees continues to stay busy with several important initiatives. Our Nominating Committee has begun preparing the slate of candidates for the 2026–2027 Board of Trustees, helping ensure strong leadership and continuity for the future of our congregation. The board is also working on the Temple Employee Handbook and developing an Ethics Document to further support strong governance and best practices for our organization. In addition, we are preparing the Temple's Annual Report, which will be mailed to members in advance and reviewed together at our Annual Meeting on June 14.

Spring is always a season of renewal and connection. As we continue through this busy and exciting time, I want to thank each of you for the many ways you contribute to the life of our congregation. Your participation, support, and commitment help make Temple Emanu-El such a warm and vibrant community.

I look forward to seeing many of you at our upcoming programs and celebrations.

Wishing everyone a wonderful spring season.

John Murphy

President, Temple Emanu-El

Notes from Hazzan Sherry Barnes

Chag haAviv, the festival of spring, is one of the names for Passover. Even though it is a bit chilly on the day that I am writing this article, I am beginning to see the daffodils shooting up from the cold ground and anticipating their beautiful yellow flowers. I am appreciative that the giant snow piles are finally gone from my yard and Temple Emanu-El's parking lot. I'm so happy that spring is coming, that I bought a ticket to go to Wicked Tulips Flower Farm in Preston, to see their 1.5 million tulips beginning to bloom this month! I am really excited to experience the beauty of rows and rows of colorful tulips.

Looking to next month, I hope you will be joining me on Saturday, May 2, at 5:00 p.m., as I celebrate my 25th year on the bima serving as Temple Emanu-El's Hazzan. I'm looking forward to celebrating this milestone with my family and especially with you, my Temple Emanu-El family. I know it will be a wonderful evening with all of the amazing people planning it. So please make sure to RSVP and join me for this celebration.

As I write this article, it's been a little over 4 weeks since my surgery. I wanted to express my gratitude for your patience, support, and understanding, as I move through my recovery. Thank you so much.

April 4, is our next Shabbat Morning service, starting at 10:00 a.m. I want to say thank you to Jeff Elkin for chanting Torah and Haftarah at last month's Shabbat morning service and for chanting Haftarah at our April service. Rabbi Marc crafts a very beautiful creative service that is sure to enrich your Shabbat soul.

Rosh Chodesh will be on Thursday, April 16, at 1:00 p.m., in the sanctuary. The theme for the month of Iyar will be Healing. Hope to see you there.

Chag Sameach Pesach!

Wishing all of you a very sweet and meaningful Passover,

B'shir,

Hazzan Sherry

Religious School — Lisa Marcus, Director

As I write this article, I am in the midst of planning our school Passover Seder and Songs with Rabbi Marc and Hazzan Sherry. We are modifying our traditional "older student" program with a shorter, younger, hipper version so that our youngest learners can participate in the same seder. We are very excited to include movement and other interesting tidbits this year to keep our young learners engaged.

Kadima has been all about getting involved in social action these days. They did a Hygiene Product Drive this winter for the New London Homeless Hospitality Center, and soon will be making Trail Mix for their clientele. They will also be doing a food drive for the Gemma E Moran Food Center as this article is appearing and will be volunteering in their center in May. These teens work well together and have a lot of things to contribute to our community.

I want to take this opportunity to thank the Religious School Committee (RSC), led by Michelle Pievsky, for all their hard work so far this year. Most recently, Ellyn Marinho organized Sunday Funday at Supercharged Trampoline Park and I am guessing they had a fantastic time!! Looking ahead, the RSC will be looking for volunteers for our end of the year Family Fun Day on May 17 from 9AM to 12:30PM. Reach out to me at 860-908-2113 or religiousschool@tewaterford.org to sign up. Many thanks in advance for your help!

Shalom, Miss Lisa

Sisterhood -- Barbara Senges, President

Ladies,

February's "P. Poppins Art Night" was a huge success! Thanks to Board Member, Moira Ross, for organizing the evening and providing us with wine and yummy refreshments. We are planning another Art Night for 2026-2027.

On March 11, Merrill Mazzella led us in a "Zoom Scavenger Hunt". We were a small but mighty group and a great time was had by all attendees. Barbara Morea was the winner for garnering the most points for finding most of the objects first or second. Thank you to Merrill for leading us in this always fun event.

As of this writing, most of our March events have yet to occur. On March 20, we have invited this year's new Sisterhood members and their families to join us for the Shabbat Dinner. We now have 18 new members – joining within the last month as new members to the Temple are Phyllis Holtzman and Kimberli Carcaramo. We are also looking forward in March to Book Club (postponed from February), Rosh Chodesh, Movie Club and the annual Sisterhood Service.

In April we look forward to our monthly Rosh Chodesh, Book Club and Movie Club. (See below.) Last month I highlighted the special event coming up on Sunday, April 26 at 2:00PM at the Temple. Sheryl Faye will be returning to perform "Sheryl Faye Presents Historical Women: Eleanor Roosevelt". The program is open to the entire Jewish Community. (Including men!) The program is free, but a suggested donation of $10 is appreciated. Last year, your donations covered the entire cost of the program! Please RSVP to me at professeur38@me.com by Sunday, April 20. See the Flyer in this bulletin!

Finally, I'd like you to SAVE THE DATE of Thursday, May 28 at 6:00PM for our annual Sisterhood End-Of-Year Paid-Up Membership Dinner. This event is the perfect opportunity to mingle with your Temple sisters, meet new sisters, and enjoy a delicious buffet dinner. See the Flyer with details in this bulletin!

Eleanor Roosevelt "The First Lady of the World"

Join us as Sheryl Faye does a presentation as Eleanor Roosevelt!
Sunday, April 26 • 2 pm • at Temple Emanu-El

After suffering through an unhappy childhood, and losing her parents and one of her brothers, she figured out where she fit in and could make a difference. She grew up and became an American politician. The longest-serving First Lady of the United States. She was the first presidential spouse to hold press conferences, write a syndicated newspaper column, and speak at a national convention. She advocated for expanded roles for women in the workplace, the civil rights of African Americans and Asian Americans, and the rights of World War II refugees. She became one of the first delegates to The United Nations. One of the top ten most admired people of the 20th century.

"...as individuals we live cooperatively, and, to the best of our ability, serve the community in which we live...our own success, to be real, must contribute." ~ Eleanor Roosevelt

This program is open to the entire Jewish Community.

This program is free but a suggested donation of $10 is appreciated.

The presentation runs for 45 minutes.

Registration is required. Please RSVP to Barbara at professeur38@me.com by April 20th.

Online Payment Options - Are you Onboard?

Currently, the least expensive way to donate to Temple is by an old-fashioned check. There are no transaction fees. But many members ask about online payment options, so here is a summary.

Temple has several ways to make an online / electronic payment.

Pre-registered electronic payments: As explained in our annual membership pledge package, you can provide bank checking transfer information (eCheck), or credit card information to Roberta. This is for payment of dues, school fees, and other similar transactions. All information is kept under lock-and-key. The transactions are processed in the middle of each month. Today, about 37 families use this option.

Online Donations. Our website has a donation page that provides an easy link to donate to a total of 25 funds. The payments are processed thru PayPal. PayPal also accepts your credit card and Venmo transactions.

3. Event Registration Forms. The newest addition! Our website has an event registration form that allows for RSVP and payment for Shabbat Dinners, the Passover Seder, and 10 other events. Again, using PayPal for processing. We can already tell this new option is popular.

We are hoping to implement two additional payment mechanisms in the next several months.

1. Zelle: The bank that Temple uses, Chelsea Groton, has started accepting payments using Zelle. What does this mean? If your bank also uses Zelle, it allows for a quick, email facilitated transaction, all with no fees to you or the Temple. Next month, we will provide more information on using Zelle.

2. Membership Pledge Payment Page on the website: Our website currently has a donation page and an event payment page. By May, we are hoping to implement a Membership Dues Payment page on our website. Like the other payment pages, it will be linked to PayPal.

How are we doing? Just a year ago for one month (February 2025), we processed 19 pre-registered electronic payments, and 11 payments by PayPal. In February 2026, we processed 27 pre-registered electronic payments and 33 payments by PayPal. An overall 100% increase in use.

If you want to start using online and electronic payments, don't be shy! Contact Roberta in the office, and we will help you get started.

2026 Ilson Award Recipients — Robbin and Brian Alpert

Please join us on June 5 as we honor our Robbin and Brian Alpert as our 2026 Howard Ilson Award recipients!

As you know, the Howard Ilson Award is presented each year to someone who has provided a lengthy and distinguished array of contributions to Temple Emanu-El. It was the committee's pleasure to select the Alperts this year, and the news was great medicine for them since they were both getting over Covid when I called them. Robbin, Brian, and their son, Jay, have been members of the congregation since 2002. The nominations the committee received all were reflective of their reputation as a "go-to" couple. Both have served on the Board of Trustees. Robbin is currently in her 6th year on the Board. Both have served as President or Co-President of the Brotherhood and Sisterhood. Robbin is known for her participation coordinating our Mahjong tournaments, Starry Night celebrations, and other fundraisers. Brian volunteered his time and efforts on doing the portrait photography for our Photo Directories. We have so much that we want to thank them for, so please come to the service on June 5 to hear more.

We had a great committee this year. I wish to thank Barry Feldman, Karen Rosenberg, and Armi Rowe, Jo-el Fernandez, Geoff Hausman, and Janine Sitko for working hard to make this year's decision.

The Alperts, the committee, and I are looking forward to seeing everybody on June 5.
